Shawe theatre debuts lights Friday, Saturday

BY BOB DEMAREE

Theatre has long been a part of Shawe Memorial Junior/Senior High School, but participants have always had to be creative about lighting their productions because the school lacked the theatrical stage lights to provide adequate illumination. But that changed in March with the installation of stage lights.

Coming up at 7 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, Shawe will stage its first production with the new lights, "An Evening of Comedy" featuring three stand-up routines and four 10-minute skits on driver's education.

Kelly Rector, who heads up Shawe's theatre department and is director of the play, said the new lighting will not only enhance school productions, but "will help students to learn the technology of theatre." And that knowledge, she noted, will help in particular for those who may pursue theatre in college. "They will have looked at a system and will have learned from it," she said. Rector noted the benefits to the school go beyond the theatre department in that they can also be used during sports activities, musical events or dance performances.

Shawe's Alexis Graziano, Lilly Waller and Brody Haggerty run through a rehearsal for this weekend's "An Evening of Comedy" to be stage at the school

Half of the cost of the stage lights was paid with grants from the Buchanan Fund and the Father Hilary Meny Fund and the school is continuing to raise funds for the other half, which Phoenix Lighting Company of Louisville is giving them two years to pay off. Tickets proceeds for the play will help pay for the lights. Cost is $10 for adults and $5 for students and Shawe faculty. For every $25 donated to the cost of the lights, $5 will be received toward the ticket cost. In addition, Rector also said an anonymous alum is willing to match any donation to the stage lights up to $1,800.

Participants in the play are students in Shawe's theatre class, which typically has productions in the fall and spring. However, COVID-19 caused the fall production to be canceled with the class focusing on radio and video production. Rector asked teachers if videos prepared by the class might be useful in their classes, and Kindergarten teacher Crystie Schultz took them up on the offer to do video Bible lessons for her class. Even though the videos were targeted for Kindergarten students, Rector said many students in other grade levels have also enjoyed the videos.

Rector said focusing on video production was "ideal for us" because students could continue learning "in the environment we live right now" with COVID-19. Students were able to do some of the work from home "learning on their own devices." Rector said. "They wrote, produced and edited the videos" while learning the process of filmmaking. Four videos were created, all now on Rector's YouTube channel, ranging from Creation to All Saints Day, St. Nicholas Day and Advent. They also did a video on the "Circle of Grace" song.

Now that students are back at school and working on the play, cautions are being exercised, such as wearing clear face shields at rehearsals, to help protect against exposure to COVID-19. It makes the process about as safe as possible but still doesn't remove all anxiety of functioning in a pandemic.

"I'm excited but also nervous," said student Alexa Bomholt, noting it's great to interact with people but some level of anxiety goes with that after a year of dealing with a pandemic.

Madison man facing level 2 felony drug charge after traffic stop

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

A Jefferson County man is facing 10-30 years in prison after being arrested on Level 2 felony drug charge during a traffic stop on Friday.

Timothy Christoper Jester, 49, Madison, was charged with felony manufacturing/dealing methamphetamine — allegedly related to intent to deliver and sell according to Chief Deputy Josh Taylor— and a Class B misdemeanor possession of marijuana. He was lodged in the Jefferson County Jail on a $100,000 cash bond.

Sheriff's officers also made two additional arrests over the week end resulting in drug charges.

During a Clifty Drive traffic stop on Saturday, Mark Allen Bear, 57, Madison, was charged with possession of methamphetamine, a Level 6 felony, and possession of marijuana a Class A misdemeanor as well as on a Jefferson County warrant for failure to appear. Bear was lodged in the jail where he is being held without bond.

On Sunday, sheriff's officers arrested Jeanette White, 41, Madison, charging her with possession of cocaine or a narcotic drug, possession of a syringe and possession of methamphetamine, all Level 6 felonies; as well as possession of paraphernalia and resisting law enforcement, both Class A misdemeanors. She was also lodged in the jail without bond.

North Vernon man charged in ATV pursuit involving gunfire

A North Vernon man was arrested Sunday afternoon in connection with an all terrain vehicle pursuit in Scott County earlier Sunday morning in which shots were allegedly exchanged between the suspect and an officer in a field off State Road 256.

The incident began at about 5:45 a.m. Sunday, when a Scott County Deputy Sheriff patrolling on SR 256 near Terry Road observed an off-road vehicle turn east on SR 256 from Terry Road without stopping at the stop sign. The deputy attempted to make a traffic stop on the ATV, but the vehicle fled into a nearby field.

Shortly after entering the field, the deputy said the ATV stopped abruptly, and the deputy exited his patrol vehicle and continued the pursuit, approaching the suspect on foot. The deputy reported that he heard what he believed to be gunfire, and returned fire as he took cover behind a nearby house trailer.

When other responding officers arrived, they were unable to locate the suspect near the ATV and established a containment perimeter. Further attempts to locate the suspect were unsuccessful so the Scott County Sheriff's Department requested the assistance of Indiana State Police detectives and crime-scene technicians from the Sellersburg Post.

As the investigation continued, detectives were able to identify a possible suspect after speaking with residents in the area. Meanwhile, Indiana Conservation Officers offered the assistance of their search canines to assist troopers and deputies in conducting a more in-depth search of a nearby wooded area where the suspect was believed to have fled.

Jefferson jail dealing with 'a couple' cases of COVID-19

BY BOB DEMAREE

The Jefferson County Jail Division will restrict access to the public for the next two weeks in an effort to curb the spread of COVID-19 after at least one inmate tested positive for the virus last week.

Asked Monday whether the jail currently has any inmates who had tested positive for the virus, Chief Deputy Joshua Taylor said "a couple had tested positive" last week.

According to Sheriff Dave Thomas, the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office Jail Division has medical staff working seven days a week to prevent the spread of COVID. "The health and well-being of all inmates is a high priority for the Sheriff's office and we are doing the absolute best we can to help prevent and reduce the spread of COVID," Thomas said.

The sheriff said he looking at lifting restrictions on Monday, April 26 — the normal two-week quarantine in such cases — but that depends on the situation at that time and an update will be provided before or after that.

Meanwhile, Kentucky Gov. Andy Beshear said Monday that as soon as 2.5 million Kentuckians have received at least their first dose of a COVID-19 vaccine, he will lift capacity restrictions and physical distancing requirements for nearly all venues, events and businesses that cater to 1,000 or fewer patrons. Beshear said he would also end the curfew for bars and restaurants once the goal is met.

Beshear said just over 900,000 more Kentuckians need to complete their vaccinations in order for the state to meet the Team Kentucky Vaccination Challenge goal.

A total of 1,617,017 have received at least their first dose of the COVID-19 vaccine so far in Kentucky and 1,060,594 have been fully vaccinated.

Indiana has now injected 3,403,950 total doses of the vaccine including 1,993,880 first doses and 1,410,070 individuals who are fully vaccinated. The fully vaccinated number represents individuals who have received a second dose of the Pfizer or Moderna vaccines and those who received the single Johnson & Johnson vaccine.

A total of 18,285 have been vaccinated in Jefferson County with 7,651 residents fully vaccinated and 10,634 Jefferson County residents that have received at least the first of two doses of the COVID vaccine. Switzerland County has vaccinated 3,426 people including 1,428 that have been fully vaccinated and 1,998 that have received the first dose of a two-dose vaccination series.

As of Monday, Jefferson County had two new cases from the previous day for an overall total of 3,071 COVID-19 cases since the pandemic began. Jefferson County's seven-day positivity percentage is currently 5.5% and the unique positivity rating is 14%. Jefferson County has reported no new deaths due to the virus pandemic but has 79 total deaths to date.

Ripley teen injured when ORV crashes into tree

Indiana Conservation Officers are investigating a Ripley County off-road vehicle accident that injured a male teenager Friday evening.

The accident occurred at about 6:19 p.m. on private property in the 6200 block of East County Road 450 South when a 13-year-old operator lost control of an off road vehicle after making contact with another rider on a dirt bike. The ORV then collided with a tree, resulting in the boy being thrown from the machine.

The male, who was unidentified by authorities, was transported by ambulance to Saint Elizabeth Hospital in Lawrenceburg due to inclement weather and later airlifted to the Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center. The extent of his injuries is unknown but he was not wearing a helmet or any other protective riding gear at the time of the accident.

Conservation officers were assisted by the Friendship Fire and Rescue and Ripley County EMS.

Conservation officers noted that everyone should wear a helmet and protective riding gear when operating an ORV. Additionally, Indiana law requires all operators or passengers on an ORV who are under age 18 wear a DOT-approved helmet.

Madison holds off Southwestern, 11-8

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Madison built a lead that even Southwestern couldn't overcome, but that didn't stop the Rebels from putting a scare into the Cubs when the two unbeaten baseball teams squared off in Hanover on Friday.

Madison used a pair of four-run innings to seize a 9-1 lead after four innings but Southwestern, which has had a penchant for late rallies this season, wasn't about to go away quietly.

The Rebels chipped into the Cub lead, eventually pulling to within 11-8 in the bottom of the seventh with the tying run on deck before Madison freshman pitcher Liam Murphy escaped the jam to end the game.

Madison ended up walking away from the early season encounter still undefeated, but the game was one of those rare contests where both coaches were satisfied with how it played out.

Madison's Trenton Barnes celebrates as he rounds the bases after hitting a three-run home run in the Cubs' 11-8 win over Southwestern on Friday in Hanover.

"We showed our youth a couple of times and (Southwestern) scored some runs they probably shouldn't have, but you learn on that," Madison coach Tim Armstrong said. "Being a county rivalry it's fun and everybody gets hyped for it and I thought we hit the ball really well. (Southwestern) hit the ball well. It was a fun game."

Villwock back in cockpit as driver of Bucket List Racing

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Dave Villwock, the winningest driver in H1 Unlimited hydroplane racing history, is climbing back into the cockpit of an Unlimited to drive for the Bucket List Racing Team this summer.

Dave Villwock

Villwock, 67, has won 67 races at the Unlimited level and owns more wins, championships (10) and driver's championships (10) than any other driver in the history of the sport. Villwock has not driven competitively since the 2014 season when he was suspended for dangerous driving while steering the U-37 Unlimited for Schumacher Racing.

"I am grateful to have been given the opportunity to drive for (owners) Kelly and Sharon this season," Villwock said. "We have made a lot of improvements to the boat and the program as a whole. Our team looks forward to energizing the sport by announcing a new sponsorship for our new hull in the coming weeks."

Villwock was a highly-accomplished flat-bottom pilot in the Pacific Northwest when he was tapped to be the crew chief for the Circus Circus team in 1990. The boat, driven by Chip Hanauer, won the National High Points Championship.

Two years later Villwock got his chance to drive an Unlimited and made an immediate impact, steering the Coors' Dry to victory at San Diego in the first race he ever entered. He won the national championship aboard the PICO American Dream in 1996 then jumped to the Miss Budweiser team in 1997 where he dominated the sport for the next eight years, despite losing two fingers on his right hand in a near-fatal blowover crash.

After Budweiser withdrew from the sport in 2004, Villwock hooked up with the Miss Elam Plus/Spirit of Qatar team and spent the next seven years dueling with the Miss Madison Team for supremacy of the water. He joined Schumacher Racing in 2013 as a consultant before jumping into the cockpit as driver. Two incidents with Jimmy Shane and the Oberto/Miss Madison left him on the shore.

Long considered one of the best propellor builders in the sport, Villwock has a relationship with Bucket List Racing owner Kelly Stocklin dating back nearly 40 years.

"We have worked with Dave for many years and had great success in the flat-bottom classes and could not be more excited to have him drive our new boat in the upcoming season."

After years of campaigning an uncompetitive boat that was too small and underpowered for the Unlimited class, the Stocklins upped their stake this year by acquiring a new boat from the defunct Go Fast Turn Left Racing team. That hull, which was completed just two years ago, has never raced competitively. Villwock has been working on updating the hull since last summer.

The 2021 H1 Unlimited season will kick off in Guntersville, Alabama, in late June, one week before the Madison Regatta on July 2-4.

Hanover women win conference soccer title

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Hanover's women's soccer team closed out its dominating spring season with one final dominating win, beating Rose-Hulman, 3-0, in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference championship game Sunday at home.

The Panthers, who finished the abbreviated season with a perfect 9-0 record, shut out an opponent for the seventh time this season. Hanover allowed only two goals in the campaign, both in 2-1 wins.

Hanover wasted little time getting on the scoreboard when Jostin Reeves, a freshman from Greenwood and Center Grove High School, scored unassisted in the 8th minute for a 1-0 lead.

That's where the game stood at halftime as the two teams sloshed it out in the rain.

Hanover finally broke through for a crucial insurance goal in the 59th minute when Autumn Boothby, a junior from Mount Orab, Ohio, scored on a through ball from Maggie Day, a junior from Sellersburg and Silver Creek High School, for a 2-0 lead.

Bri Mantis, a freshman from Liberty Township, Ohio, then put the game away with an unassisted goal in the 71st minute for the final margin. The game was closer than the final score indicated. Hanover held only a 15-11 advantage in shots, including just 8-7 on goal. The Panthers had five corner kick chances to three by the Fightin' Engineers.

Hanover's Josie Dattilo, a sophomore midfielder from Montgomery, Ohio, was named the tournament's most valuable player.

The championship was Hanover's first since the 2016 campaign.

Turner finished the game 2-for-2 with two doubles. Kaleb Koons had a hit and scored a run for Switzerland's only other hit.

Dakota Wallace was tagged with seven runs — four earned — on three hits in three and two-thirds innings to get the loss.

Hanover whips Franklin for 3rd straight Victory Bell

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Unbeaten Hanover football dominated Franklin 56-21 on Saturday to win their Victory Bell showdown for the third-straight year and clinch at least a share of the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference championship.

The Panthers, who are now 45-42-3 all-time in Bell games against their rivals, led only 21-14 at halftime but took over the final two quarters to turn the game into a rout.

Hanover scored four unanswered touchdowns out of the locker room to blow the game open. After Franklin broke the run, the Panthers scored their final touchdown with four minutes to go for the final margin.

MADISON

its best start to a season since the 1998 squad won 33 games and reached the Class 3A Final Four.

It's way too early to put that kind of expectations on this team, with four sophomores in the starting lineup on Friday. But with several members of that team on hand — including Mr. Baseball and former Major Leaguer Bryan Bullington — to watch the game, the Cubs wanted to put their best foot forward.

Madison went to work right away against Southwestern sophomore Jordan DeAtley. While the Cubs failed to score in the first, they did load the bases and set the tone for what was to come.

Madison got an unearned run in the second on a Zander Vonch RBI single then pushed four across in the third when Trenton Barnes and Myles Barnes had back-to-back RBI hits and Vonch doubled in a run.

The big blows came in the fourth when Madison added four more runs to seemingly put the game out of reach. Zach Forner opened the frame by blasting a deep home run to right field — drawing catcalls from the Southwestern dugout in the process for his ensuing trot — and three batters later Trenton Barnes belted a laser shot into the teeth of the wind for a three-run home run and a 9-1 lead.

With a lead secured, the Cubs relaxed, confident that their offensive work was finished. But Southwestern, which had shown no problem playing from behind in its four previous wins, was just getting ready to go to work.

"One of the things we talk about all the time is being comfortable being uncomfortable and that's what I challenged them when it became 9-1," Southwestern coach Dan Thurston said. "I told them that 'we want to be comfortable being uncomfortable and right now, we're uncomfortable. This does not feel good. We have two choices: We can roll over and get run-ruled the next inning or we can battle through this and see what we can do to get back into the game. And I'm so proud of them for battling, hanging in there and making it a game."

Southwestern (4-1) actually scored its first run in the third on an RBI single by Jordan DeAtley but began its comeback in earnest in the fifth. Zach Cole hammered a double to center and Jamison Lewis, Jordan DeAtley and Landon DeAtley each followed with singles. Throw in two Madison errors and the Rebels plated three runs to cut the margin to 9-4.

After stranding two runners in scoring position in the sixth and giving up a pair of Madison runs in the top of the seventh on a pair of errors to fall behind 11-4, Southwestern tried to pull out the win in its final at-bat for the third time this season.

The Rebels opened the frame when a Madison error and a walk put two runners on base. William Stockdale drove in both with a single and Foster Mefford smacked an opposite-field two-out triple for a third run. Cole then laced an RBI single to close the gap to 11-8.

Murphy, who had relieved sophomore starter Ben Orrill in the fifth inning for Madison, was struggling but Armstrong decided to leave his freshman in the game. Murphy rewarded that faith by grounding out Lewis to end the game.

"I thought Liam threw well. He got into a little bit of trouble but I wanted him to work out of it and he did," Armstrong said. "He's only a freshman and that kind of experience is invaluable."

Orrill (2-0) ended up getting the win after allowing four runs — three earned — on eight hits in five and a third innings with eight strikeouts and two walks. Murphy gave up four runs — just one earned — on three hits in an inning and two-thirds with a strikeout.

Jordan DeAtley (1-1) took the loss for Southwestern after giving up eight earned runs on nine hits in three-plus innings with two strikeouts and five walks. Older brother Landon DeAtley pitched the final four innings and steadied the ship, giving up two unearned runs on three hits with one strikeout.

Madison had 12 hits in the game to 11 by Southwestern. Trenton Barnes had a double to go with his homer and drove in four runs while Vonch was 2-for-5 with a double and three RBIs, Drew Forner was 2-for-3 with a double and a run scored and Orrill was 2-for-4 with a run.

Cole broke out of his early-season hitting slump by going 3-for-4 with a double, an RBI and three runs scored for the Rebels and Jordan DeAtley added three hits, a run and an RBI. Lewis had two hits and scored a run.

Both teams now head into conference play with some big games this week. Madison plays at New Albany tonight and hosts Columbus East on Wednesday before heading to Lanesville for two games on Saturday.

Southwestern hosted Rising Sun on Monday and will travel to Shawe on Wednesday.

"That's what I love about this project," said Rector, "all of the students have been actively involved."

That will all come together on the state Friday and Saturday. The program will begin with stand-up comedy routines by Brody Haggerty and Bomholt followed by four 10-minute comedy skits of "You're Driving Me Crazy!" by Todd Wallinger. The four scenes are all set in a car as a driver education instructor works with students. Actors in the four scenes include Bomholt, Brody Haggerty, Piper Haggerty, Alexis Graziano, Hannah Graziano, Alyssa Gross, Elizabeth Jung, Lakyn Tingle, Matthew Vaughn and Lilly Waller. Gross will then close out the evening with a final stand-up routine.

Samantha Gray is serving as the stage manager for the play while Lily Eggenspiller is the costume designer. A'riann Geyman is the sound designer and operator with Shanley McAllister on the sound crew. Kelly McClure and Kelly Thorpe both head up the hair and make-up crew.

The need for the project is to provide safe transportation over Toddy's Branch with a bridge and roadway that meet current design standards.
The Maintenance of Traffic for the project will require most of the new bridge and approach construction to be completed with traffic maintained on the existing bridge with the new bridge constructed on a new alignment. The proposed method to maintain traffic for the pavement connections on each end, the completion of the NW corner of the abutment, south abutment, and placement of the bridge superstructure is to close the road and utilize a detour for approximately 3 months. The state route detour length is about 36 miles, and utilizes SR 250, US 421 to SR 129 to access SR 62. Local roads may be used by local traffic. Access to all properties will be maintained throughout construction. Project stakeholders including local school corporations and emergency services will be notified of closures and detours prior to any construction. The proposed start of construction is spring 2023.
Construction of the project will require approximately 2.816-acres of new permanent right-of-way (ROW) and 0.222-acre of temporary ROW. The estimated cost of the project is $2,236,371. Federal and state funds are to be utilized for the construction of the project. The Federal Highway Administration and INDOT have agreed that this project falls within the guidelines of a Categorical Exclusion (CE) Level 2 environmental document. Preliminary design plans, along with the CE, are available for review on the following website: https://www.in.gov/indot/2706.htm All interested persons may request a public hearing be held and/or express their concerns by submitting comments to the attention of Mathew Aldridge or Jeff Drake, 251 North Illinois Avenue, Indianapolis, IN 46204 or Mathew.Aldridge@burgessniple.com or Jeff.Drake@burgessniple.com or (317) 237-2760 ext. 1022 or ext. 4415 on or before April 28, 2021. In addition, project information, including the environmental document, may be mailed to interested persons upon request. In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), persons and/or groups requiring project information be made available in alternative formats are encouraged to contact the INDOT Seymour District Office for the arrangement and coordination of services. Please contact Mathew Aldridge or Jeff Drake at (317) 237-2760 or Mathew.Aldridge@burgessniple.com or Jeff.Drake@burgessniple.com. In accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, persons and/or groups requiring project information be made available in another language are encouraged to contact the INDOT Seymour District Office.
This notice is published in compliance with: 1) Code of Federal Regulations, Title 23, Section 771 (CRF 771.111(h)(1)) stating, "Each State must have procedures approved by the FHWA to carry out a public involvement/public hearing program."; 2) 23 CFR 450.210(a)(1)(ix) stating, "Provide for the periodic review of the effectiveness of the public involvement process to ensure that the process provides full and open access to all interested parties and revise the process, as appropriate."; and 3) The INDOT Public Involvement Policies and Procedures approved by the Federal Highway Administration on August 16, 2012.

Bad habits

Dear Annie: I'm married to a wonderful man, and we have four beautiful children. However, since COVID-19 started, we discovered that we have underlying issues within our relationship. For example, he isn't the best person to communicate with. Among other things, I discovered his liking of porn, and I'm not happy about it. I have expressed my hurt and feelings about it, and he listens, but I feel like he honestly doesn't care about my feelings. Just recently, I found out he searched it but didn't watch it.

I've developed a bad habit of checking his phone from time to time because I think he lies to me and hides it because he has before. He says he acknowledged that he did wrong, but he didn't watch it. He says it's a bad habit of his, and it's not easy to break. How do you deal with this? I feel he has excuses for everything and tries to downplay his wrongs and gets defensive. —

Fed Up

Dear Fed Up: Your husband might be suffering from a porn addiction. If that is the case, he needs to seek the help of a professional, or join a group for support, to understand his compulsive behavior. Your habit of checking his phone and not trusting him is not helping either. Try and stop checking his phone and instead ask him if he needs help. If he declines, then it might time for the two of you to seek marriage counseling to go through it all together in a controlled setting.

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

He might be a wonderful husband, and you might be a wonderful wife, but this issue of your playing "gotcha," and his apologizing like a bad boy, is not healthy for either of you or your four beautiful children.

Dear Annie: I am writing because I have noticed lately that there are a lot of drivers on the road whose vehicle lights aren't working. If you want to check your vehicle lights by yourself, here's how:

Drive to a building that has plate glass windows and pull in with your headlights facing the windows. Check your headlights, high beams and directional signals. Then reverse your vehicle and back into the parking space so that your rear lights are facing the plate glass windows. Check your rear lights, brake lights, directional signals and reverse gear (white) lights by looking in your rearview mirror while you test them. This works even in daylight, since the reflections are easily seen in the plate glass.

Also, if the six-foot rule for social distancing is a bit confusing, remember that most commercial buildings have had their floor tile installed by the square foot. Counting six of the tiles should equal six feet in most cases. If the tiles are smaller, say eight inches square, count nine tiles and you will be at a safe distance.

I hope these hints may help people, especially during lockdowns. — Keeping the Roads Safe

Dear Keeping the Roads Safe: Thank you for your letter. You make some practical and helpful suggestions.

Compliment good behavior

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: A few months ago, someone wrote to you about how uncomfortable the bad manners of children of a relative made her feel at large family gatherings and dinners. I read your column faithfully and did not see any readers' suggestions printed in the following weeks.

Of course, large family gatherings have not happened this past year due to the pandemic. But we will return joyfully to them, probably toward the 2021 holidays. The writer mentioned that another family in attendance displayed commendable behavior. That presents a golden opportunity, and I would offer her this suggestion: Compliment those well-behaving children in front of all assembled at the table. Compliment the parents of those children. No matter how rude the other children are, ignore their bad behavior. But watch for good behavior from them, and compliment them immediately if and when it occurs. Attention-seeking in bad ways should not be rewarded. — 81 Years Wise

Dear 81 Years Wise: You certainly are 81 years wise. Praise has all sorts of benefits for children. It helps build a positive self-concept and can keep a child on track for the task at hand. Good table manners are an important part of teaching your child how to behave in public, but providing extra praise for the behaviors you want to increase is proven to work.

My only advice is to be careful not to shame the children who are behaving badly, and your suggestion to ignore the rude behavior sounds perfect.

Children need attention, so by giving them attention when they are behaving nicely, you are encouraging that. Bravo!

Dear Annie: I just read a column from "Crushed Spirit," whose wife cheated and ruined their marriage. I went through nearly this exact same scenario a few years back. I understand his pain and how badly it can affect you. I was especially touched because I, too, was asking those exact same questions when it happened to me.

Please let him know that he is not alone and there are plenty of us out here that this has happened to. If he needs a friendly ear from someone that gets it, please let him know that he is not alone. You never totally recover from something like this, but you can move on from it.

My life has improved dramatically over the last four years, and I look forward to what is still to come. Thanks for giving "Crushed Spirit" some good advice. — Crushed but Not Broken

Dear Crushed but Not Broken: Although you might not know the writer of the question personally, you certainly display a level of understanding and compassion for what he went through, and that goes a long way. Thank you for writing.
